

The Richmond Climax.

J. C. CHENAULT, Proprietors and Editors.
A. D. MILLER, Associate Editor.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 25, - - - 1890.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY

The Climax Printing Co.

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR AUDITOR.

We are authorized to announce JOHN B.

CHENAULT, of Madison county, a candidate for the office of State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention.

COL. CHARLES H. JONES, late of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, has purchased the Louisville (Ky.) Dispatch. We predict right now that Col. Jones will make it interesting for Col. Henri Watterson, of the Courier-Journal, whose bioblade of gold views stuck in the crop of the Democratic party in the last national campaign.

The above paragraph is clipped from the Columbia, Mo. Statesman, of January 20, and is the first intimation we have had of such a transaction. It means, if true, nothing more nor less than the enlargement and improvement of the Dispatch without changing its policy. With such a team as Col. Jones and Mr. Enloe, and with united Democracy at its back, the future of the paper and the party would be an assured success. There is not a better chance in the United for the building up of a great newspaper than in Louisville. The Dispatch is the nucleus. It has in ex Congressman Euloe one of the most forcible, fearless and able editors in the country, and by the addition of capital to better equip it, it will leap to the front in American journalism. The Dispatch may have made some mistakes in its short but brilliant career, but we are glad to see that of those who are

"To its faults a very little."

loving it for the grand cause it fights for hardly more than for some of the enemies it has made. With a deep interest in its establishment, and a steadfast trust in the integrity and loyalty of its management, we earnestly ask all those who want to see the triumph of the principles for the furtherance of which it was founded to STAND BY THE DISPATCH!

It is the paper of the people. It is not owned by a corporation, is not backed by limitless capital, and is, perhaps, yet unable to make the show of its older and wealthier rivals. But it is our champion, fearless and faithful, and deserves the hearty support of the whole State. It comes to us daily freighted with the best and most reliable news, if not the greatest quantity, its editorials evidence the sleepless vigil it keeps over the welfare of our party, and fills us with pride in the possession of a champion able to cope with opponents no matter who they are.

Let no Democrat be weakened in his loyalty to or support of this, his party's only hope in Louisville; listen not to detractors or ridicule of the paper. These are the last resort to weaker and destroy it—and when gone it would leave 225,000 Democrats without a voice, as they were three years ago.

Those who have faithfully contended against the slurring policy of Philippine annexation lately welcomed many illustrious penitents to the mourners' bench.

The opponents of annexation will point with some degree of pride to the form of Fire Alarm Foraker seated within the temple of genuine Americanism. They are all coming out of the storm. There are confessions yet to be made, penitents yet to enter the fold, erring ones yet to be redeemed. The opponents of imperialism have placed upon the outer wall of the temple—wherein the doctrines of the fathers are fostered—the sign: "While the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest imperialist may return."

C. F. Brower & Co.,

LEXINGTON, KY.

A Ringing Message

Full of Seasonable, Sensable Hints for the home and its comforts—We have beautified many parlors during the last few weeks and have not many suits left. Here are a few of them:

At $19.00

A 3-piece mahogany frame, covered in white Damask—that was $27.50.

At $32.50

A 6-piece mahogany frame, covered in tapestry—beautiful decoration on back—that was $45.00.

At $40.00

A 5-piece overstu—suit in Damask.

1-3 Off on All Odd Chairs.

This is an annual event—every year in January we sell off the odd pieces. You can buy them very cheap.

SPECIAL BARGAINS—This week in Extension Tables and Sideboards.

C. F. Brower & Co.,
MAIN AND BROADWAY,
LEXINGTON, KY.

"When men are excited they talk about what they can do; when they are calm they talk about what they ought to do."—W. J. Bryan.

THE expose of Keeley's motor "secret" by a Philadelphia newspaper which had his workshop ransacked after his death indicates the reason why all confidence men are down on the press.

It is the record of the glorious war department at Washington that is trying to cast aspersions on Gen. Miles.

Gen. Russell A. Alger, Secretary of War, was courtmartialed for cowardice in the face of the enemy.

Gen. W. C. Corbin, Adjutant General of the United States Army, was courtmartialed for cowardice in the face of the enemy.

Gen. Chas. P. Eagan, Commissary General, was courtmartialed for failing to pay his gambling debts.

AMONG the announced applicants for a commissionership to the Paris Exposition, is our distinguished fellow citizen, Hon. Brutus J. Clay, who would fill the position with credit alike to the State and Nation. His failure to land the Swiss mission after a close contest did not cause him to sit in his chair, but to continue to work for his party with unabated zeal. We would like to see Mr. Clay have this place if it is to be given to a gentleman of his political persuasion. He is a man all over, and would make an official of whom we would all be proud.

There are no bimetalists who have not "enlisted for the war." They will stay with this fight until it is won.

There is not a break nor a crack in their structure. Reports from the east and the west show a resolve to go straight on with the work of proselytizing as American citizens should vote.

They may threaten the country with rain as they threatened it in 1866. They may call upon the bulldozed employees of outrageously protected factories to march to the polls and surrender their manhood yet another time. All of that is to be expected. Their purchased patriotism is known for what it is. The friends of silver voted more strongly the past November than in November, 1890. They will vote more strongly in November, 1890. They know that they are right. They will go ahead.

It has been about two months since the November elections and we reproduce the above from Braun's Iconoclast, issued this month, in order to affix a postmark on the back of the feed to individual who desired, or thought that silver was dead. The man who argues that the silver issue is dead—either incapable to grasp any question of moment, or he is hypocritical in his avowals.

CONGRESSMAN DAVISON voted against Civil Service Reform, and comes under the lash of two of the greatest Republicans in America for so doing.

The Chicago Record says: "Let the classified list alone." But the New York Sun goes to the marrow in this characteristic style, and we commend its language and its consistency to those Republicans who voted for Civil Service, but are now dead "again." The Sun says:

"The Democratic platform of 1866 opposed the tenure in the public service.

The Democrats in Congress have consequently a perfect right to oppose the Civil Service Law.

The Republican platform of 1866 declared that the Civil Service Law passed by the statuary body of the Republican party which has always sustained it, and we renew our repeated declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enacted and extended wherever practicable."

Here is a distinct pledge and it cannot be broken honorably. The Republicans in the House who voted to an appropriate amendment to the Civil Service bill were in a majority.

Constituents broke that pledge.

Their performance was not only dishonorable, but it was miserably cheap. They knew perfectly well that they could not get away with such business. They knew perfectly well that the House, after it had had its cheap kick at the Republican Civil Service Law, would not be so easily taken for the same proposition as it did yesterday. This show has been given before. But the temptation to impress upon their office-seeking constituents that the right thing to do is to do it for the right, is great for such weak minds to resist. Certain Republican Congressmen make a profit of splitting a law of which their national platform boasted and which they are bound in honor to sustain.

"We have never admired Chinese Service Reform, but we admire a good deal less the politicians who try to break a solemn promise of their party."

PERSONAL.

Mr. John B. Chenault was in Paris last week.

Hon. A. R. Burnam was in the city last week.

Miss Lillian Lynn left Monday for trip to Europe.

Mr. C. E. Smith has returned to Jackson county.

Mrs. Fraze has for her guest, Mrs. Pigg, of St. Louis.

Mrs. Norris, of St. Louis, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. J. Fraze.

We are glad to see Mr. Tom Arnold out again.

Miss Katherine Blanton left Monday morning for Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Waldean is in New York selecting spring millinery for Mr. B. W. Turner.

Mr. Tom Martin, a prominent Lexington lawyer, is in the city attending court.

Miss Van Greenleaf has just returned from a visit to Miss Lizette Dickson at Paris.

Miss Nannie Heath is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. Embry of Nicholasville, at Paris.

Mr. Matt S. Cohen will have for his guests this week, the Misses Cohen of Versailles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bronston are the guests of Mrs. C. G. Prentiss, on Third street.

Mr. Dan Bennett, of Lexington, spent several days with friends in town last week.

Mr. Matt S. Cohen will have for his guests this week, the Misses Cohen of Versailles.

Mr. Underhill Scores a Great Success.

If the next and last lecture of the Winter Lecture Course by Dr. P. S. Henson, March 3, subject, "Backbone," is as interesting as that of last Friday evening, the patrons of the series will be thoroughly satisfied.

Mr. Richard Bush, of Stanford, is as the guest of Mrs. Thomas Phelps of Drexing Creek heights.

Miss Bessie McGuire, of Versailles, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Potts and Mrs. George Lillard.

Dr. C. M. Heath is in Stanford attending his daughter, Mrs. A. H. Severance, who is critically ill.

Misses Allie and Lucy Biggestarre, of Middlebury, of Middletown, are visiting in Mt. Sterling this week.

The audience was keenly appreciative and seldom did a better satisfied gathering disperse from the Court House.

Awarded

Highest Honors—World's Fair.

DR.

PRICE'S

CREAM

BAKING

POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure, Grade C, Lard Powder, from Ann Arbor, Alum, or any other adulterant.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

Charley Edwards, of Mt. Sterling, attended the C. U. C. C. dance Friday night.

Miss Ollie Baldwin left Monday for Annapolis Md. She was joined at Washington by Mrs. Becker and her daughter.

Mrs. J. J. Greenleaf and Merrileweather Smith went to Lexington last Monday and attended "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Miss Minerva Park Phelps entertained very delightfully at five o'clock last Thursday in honor of her guest, Miss Myers and Mr. Bush.

Miss Mary Logan left last week to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Minerva Keene, who is studying music in New York.

Mr. Neal Thompson and Mrs. C. D. Chenault spent Friday in Lexington, the handsom daughter of Mr. John Ballard, of Whites Station, gave a reception and dance at her home last Tuesday evening.

From the very inception of our government, he showed how two great war-time ideas had prevailed among the people, that the government should be powerful and wealthy, on one hand, and the people on the other. Hamilton was the champion of the aristocracy, while Jefferson was the champion of the people.

How finely we have outlined this great speech above, all who heard it will testify, and we freely confess our admiration, and we are sure that it will do so to us all.

Mr. Kennedy Removes to Louisville.

Mr. Kennedy, to the solicitation of old friends and relatives at Crescent Hill, Jefferson county, a suburb of Louisville, Dr. Orville Andrew Kennedy of this place, has removed to his old home and will there continue the practice of his profession which he has made a prominent member here. This will be unpleasant news to the large circle of friends of Dr. Kennedy in Madison county, who will miss him greatly.

Mr. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson were entertained at dinner by Auditor and Mrs. S. H. St. H.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Cobb, of Cynthia, and Mrs. L. M. Moore, of Madison, Fife, Mrs. Cobb, who was Miss Anna Jackson, was one of the six graduates at Madison Female Institute in 1886.

Hon. C. J. Bronston made an address before the C. U. C. C. dance Friday night.

The dance was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardee, C. L. Seary and Mrs. Gibson.

